Teaching Series: Anchored

Message Title / Pastor: “Anchored for Spirit Led Relationships” - Pastor Nate Lindseth

MESSAGE OVERVIEW

In Sunday’s message Pastor Nate talks about the importance and power of relationships led by the Holy Spirit. Relationships are meant to bring joy, connection and growth but they also take intentionality to be healthy. Paul talks about one of the key ingredients to a healthy relationship is submission. In our culture, submission sounds like control and limitation. However, Paul explains that when we submit to Christ first and then mutually submit to one another we are actually empowered to have healthy relationships. This requires us to be anchored in Christ so that we can experience His grace to have spirit led relationships.

SCRIPTURE

- Ephesians 5:21-6:9
- Ephesians 4:25
- Galatians 3:26
- Galatians 3:28

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. When you here the word submit, what comes to mind? Positive or negative? Why?
2. How does trust impact our ability to submit to someone?
3. Why do you believe our culture has a difficult time with submission?
4. How can the Holy Spirit guide your relationships with others in light of Ephesians 5:21-6:9?
5. How will you apply Sunday’s message to your life this week?

PRAYER

Dear Jesus, thank You for not just asking me to submit, but live out what You modeled for us. Thank You for sending the Holy Spirit to empower me to follow your example. Thank You for loving me and giving me the freedom to surrender my life to You so that I can be empowered to live my life to bring You honor and glory. Amen!
